Our courses

We want you to enjoy learning English as much as we enjoy teaching it! And we make sure the English we teach you in our classes is relevant and useful to you outside the classroom.

As with all our English courses, we teach to a high standard and you will be in a class that deserves its British Council and ISI accreditation. The lessons are imaginative and structured to allow maximum time to learn and practise new language.

You will build your English vocabulary and learn colloquial English, idioms and grammar to help you be as fluent as possible. We will also focus on phonology to help you improve your accent. Our skilled and friendly teachers use a variety of teaching methods to make sure that you'll always be challenged. But if you get stuck, they're there to help.

All our courses are specially designed to make the most of learning English in one of the greatest cities in the world.

Books & resources

We use interesting textbooks, videos, games and group activities to share and practise how English is used by native English speakers every day. But remember, you will need to buy the correct course book for your chosen English course. You can buy the book for your course from the reception at Holborn or Bloomsbury when you arrive. Course books usually cost between £22 and £32.

Language assessment

Your level of English is assessed before you start the course so that we can place you in a class that will be manageable, but at the same time challenge you to improve your English. After you enrol, take the online placement test: www.englishstudio.com/placement\_test/

Your enrolment test will tell us more about your level of English. We'll then allocate you to a certain class, which is assigned a certain colour. The colour system is a great way for you to know exactly how you're improving as you follow the course and move from one level to the next.

In assessing your level, we don't just look at your score on the level test. We want to find out what exactly you want to achieve from your time with us. We recognise that you are an individual and you have a specific set of needs.

If you tell us what they are, we'll know how to help you better. And just as a gardener's work doesn't end when they plant the flowers, our assessment of you continues regularly throughout the course.

General English Courses

Great teachers

We want you to have a brilliant time when you study with us. So while we make sure all our teachers have the required qualifications, we make sure they're nice too.

The art of teaching

Teaching English is a delicate balance of skill, intuition, careful planning and empathy. It requires patient, smart and experienced people to do it well. And these are the type of people that you'll have teaching you at The English Studio. Simply put, our teachers love teaching. It's a massive thrill for them when a student finally 'gets it'.

Our teachers are committed, passionate and professional. Combine their skill with the latest resources and teaching technology, including interactive whiteboards, and you're guaranteed a memorable learning experience.

We tailor each course to suit you

Before you arrive, or on your first day, we'll do a simple assessment of your language level. It sounds scary. It isn't. But it is very important. It helps us make sure we select the perfect class for you – one with students at the same level as you. This way the classes aren't too hard. Or too easy. And as each course has been specially designed for students at that level, our excellent teachers will help you to become fluent as quickly as possible. Hurrah!

How we teach

- We believe learning should be fun. That's why we try to make our lessons interactive and dynamic. You learn better when you're having fun.
- Each week, you'll study grammar, vocabulary and pronunciation.
- You'll also practise reading, writing, listening and speaking skills.
- We'll tell you what you're going to learn at the start of each class.
- We'll always teach you language that is useful in real life.
- We'll give you homework several times a week and correct it.
- We'll correct your spoken and written mistakes.
- We'll give you regular tests on what you've learned.
- We'll answer any questions you have and give you individual help.
- We'll choose materials from many different books and resources – not just one course book.

We give you one-to-one attention

Our teachers don't just stand in front of the class. They get down amongst you and talk to you individually. Person-to-person. We've found it's the quickest way to learn. (And it's easier to ask questions when you know the rest of the class aren't listening.)

The dedicated staff are great, and I love working in central London, but the best thing about it for me is meeting and working with the students.

Study with us in one of the world's most exciting and vibrant cities. Our schools are in Holborn, in the heart of London.

London

As the world's cultural capital and the planet's most visited metropolis, London is truly the Queen of Cities. In tandem with New York, it is the centre of world finance and has the fifth-largest metropolitan area GDP on Earth and the largest in Europe.

But you don't need statistics to know why London is so great, do you? Can you even remember a time when you hadn't heard about London? And what do you think of when you hear the name? Well, everyone has their own answer to that question: the red double-decker buses, the Victorian fog of Sherlock Holmes, the annual tennis banquet of Wimbledon, the splendour and pageantry of our Royal celebrations, the finest theatre and shows this side of Broadway, our passion for fashion, Swinging London, the Beatles at Abbey Road, the museums and galleries which are the envy of the world, the theatre of dreams that is Wembley Stadium, the coolness of Camden Town, the charm of Notting Hill... the list just goes on and on and we haven't even mentioned Hyde Park, the London Eye or Big Ben!

But London is so much more than all of that. The energy and excitement of the city is simply impossible to put into words. When you're here you just know you're at the centre of the world and that's why those of us who live here never want to leave. We are London, we are proud; we keep calm and we carry on. Come visit us and see for yourself!

Holborn

Holborn is minutes from the world famous Covent Garden Market, which is a must-visit. It's a bit touristy, but still well worth it.

The amazing Royal Opera House is a short walk from our front door, as is the English National Opera. Theatre Land is a bit further, but still very walkable.

Cinemas? There are loads. Take your pick. As for restaurants? We'd need a whole new section as there are so many. Rest assured there are eating spots to suit every taste and every budget.

Hidden London

Ok, so you know that The English Studio is right in the heart of London, with world famous attractions like The British Museum, Shaftesbury Avenue, Covent Garden and Camden Town right on our doorstep. However, at The English Studio we are connoisseurs of all the hidden jewels in the city, the places which are only known to those in the know. Here are a few examples of some must-see places – all of which are no more than a hop, skip and jump from The English Studio!

Bradley's Bar

42-44, Hanway Street W1T 1UT

Five minutes' walk from our front door is Hanway Street; a curved lane that is used by Cockney cabbies looking for a short cut between Oxford Street and Tottenham Court Road. It also boasts some really cool vintage vinyl shops and one or two Spanish restaurants. But it's this bar which has been a big favourite among London's Bohemian community since the swinging 60s and has a wonderfully warm and friendly atmosphere. An old style jukebox has a selection of classic tracks from the last five decades (literally not one bad record on there) and – best of all, if you're Spanish and a little homesick – a great selection of Spanish beers on tap.

Sicilian Avenue WC1A

London's architecture is one of the city's main treasures because of its incredible variety. From the classic splendour of Saint Paul's and Westminster to cutting-edge skyscrapers like The Shard, we're spoilt for choice here! Just around the corner from our school is Sicilian Avenue, a pedestrianised shopping and dining thoroughfare designed in 1910 by Roger Worley to emulate the Italian style. From the Corinthian columns to the charming terrazza-style cafés that line the avenue, and the splendid architectural features to savour when you look up, this terracotta-dressed oasis is the perfect spot to stop and watch the world go by.

Pied Bull Yard WC1A 2JR

As you're walking towards our centre in Bloomsbury Square, you could very easily walk past this little alley opening, but you'd be missing a treat. Why? Well, this is the entrance to Pied Bull Yard, which is one of Bloomsbury's great concealed treasures. In addition to the contemporary art galleries, you have the café of the world-famous Cordon Bleu school, where the Gordon Ramsays and Heston Blumenthals of the future are learning and honing their yummy craft. Not only that, but you also have The London Review Bookshop, which is a bibliophile's paradise: friendly, knowledgeable staff are always on hand to help you find exactly what you need (and if you're lucky, they might even sell you one of the copies that many authors make a point of signing for them.)

Lincoln's Inn Fields WC2A

Walk out the front door of our Holborn centre, cross the road and after a 30 second stroll through the alley known as Gate Street, you will find yourself in Lincoln's Inn Fields, London's largest public square. At one end is the gorgeous Lincoln's Inn. It looks a bit like a scaled-down version of Hogwart's (and in fact, Lincoln's Inn Fields features in the Harry Potter films as it was the location of 12 Grimmauld Place, the home of Sirius Black).

The Horse Hospital Herbrand Street WC1

If you're any way interested in the avant garde, the cutting edge and the underground arts, this really is a must-visit place. It's tucked away in a charming cobbled mews only five minutes' walk from the front door of The English Studio. Regular exhibitions, talks and screenings of documentaries and film buff fare that you won't catch at the multiplex all add up to making it worth your while to saunter up from the school and check it out. # Accommodation

If you're learning English in London, you need somewhere great to learn. You also need somewhere great to live.

At The English Studio we've helped literally thousands of students find really great places to stay. From budget hostels to luxury apartments, we can help with everything. All the accommodation we offer is inspected regularly, either by us or by our partner agencies. This way you can be sure of finding the perfect place to stay, even if you don't intend being there very often. Before you book anything, please bear in mind two important things:

- London is a very large city and it can be expensive to live near the centre.
- If you're coming in the summer, please book your accommodation as early as possible, as it can get booked up very quickly.

London's Travel Zones

If you already know London like the back of your hand, then you can skip this section. But if you don't, then it could come in very useful!

To help you decide where you should live in London, we've classified all our accommodation according to which London Travelcard Zone it's situated in. You can then work out how long it will take you to get into Zone 1 where our school is conveniently located. If you decide to book your own accommodation, always ask which Travelcard Zone it's located in. You'll find the full zone map on the Transport for London website: www.tfl.gov.uk

Zone 1: 10-20 minutes to Holborn
Zone 2: 20-35 minutes to Holborn
Zone 3: 30-45 minutes to Holborn
Zone 4: 40-60 minutes to Holborn

We've calculated these times travelling by tube or train. If you take the bus it may take you slightly longer, but you'll see more of London!

Your options

You can book your accommodation through The English Studio when you book your course. Our accommodation options include a Home Stay, where you stay with a London family, or a student residence, where you live with other English language students.

There are also many hostels that you can book yourself in London, or if you are staying for longer than six months you may want to rent a room or flat independently. Please read our advice on page 8.3 about this before you start looking.

London Home Stay

From £18 per day. A Home Stay makes learning English in London even easier. Why? Because your hosts will be English speakers.

As London is a large, multi-cultural city, the families offering Home Stays come from many ethnic backgrounds, but rest assured: English is always the main language spoken in the house. No one else in the house will speak your mother tongue, unless you specially request it. But be warned – your English lessons may go to waste if you spend all your time out of school speaking your own language!

Our Home Stays are managed by agencies that are registered with the British Council. The agencies that we use have the high standards that are required by the British Council giving you a safe environment while you are away from home. Home Stays are located throughout London, generally in zones 2, 3 & 4.

Private Home Accommodation

If you are over 18 you can also choose to live in a private home, but have less direct contact with your host family. This is a more independent option. There may also be more than three students accommodated in the home.

Residences

Our residences are an affordable option that let you share with other students. Choose between singles, doubles and dorms – there's something for everyone. And besides being clean and friendly they're also conveniently located.

Our residences are updated on our website on a regular basis and start from £22 per night. Please check our website for more details on each residence and availability.

Hostels

From £12 per day. Staying in a hostel can be a great way to experience London. There are literally hundreds of hostels to choose from, ranging in size from small houses with private rooms to huge buildings with hundreds of beds. Facilities range from basic and budget to out-and-out luxury of the sort that you would expect in a top-notch hotel.

Hostel Bookers specialise in sourcing affordable hostels in and round London. Even better, all the hostels have been rated by people who have stayed in them, so you can get a very good idea what sort of standard they offer: www.hostelbookers.com

* The English Studio cannot take responsibility for bookings made through Hostel Bookers.

A long-term stay

If you're planning on staying in London for at least six months or more, then it's well worth looking at longer-term accommodation as you can often save a great deal of money.

Many of our students have found the websites listed below useful when looking for accommodation. But before you start looking, make sure you follow our golden rules:

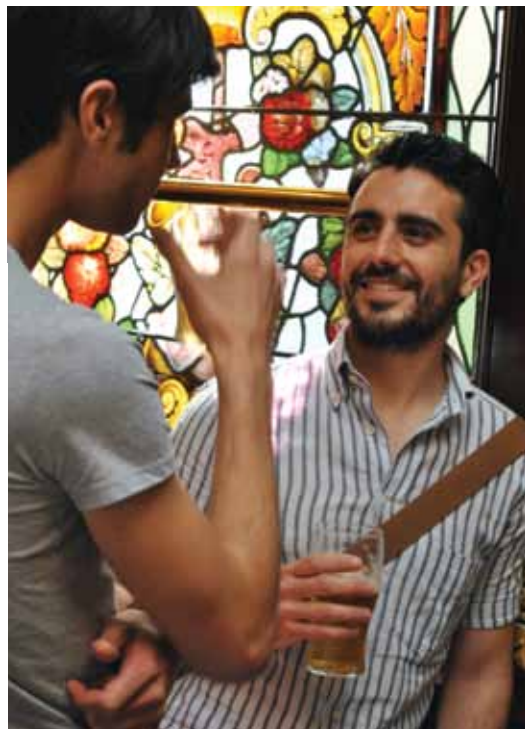

- Never pay an accommodation agency to find you somewhere to live - the websites listed here all offer a free service.
- Check how large a deposit you will need to pay – it's usually equivalent to one month's rent and you'll get it back at the end of your stay.
- Never pay a deposit BEFORE you see a room. You may find that the room doesn't actually exist – particularly if it is offered at a very low rent.
- Never send money using Western Union – this is always a warning sign.
- Check how much rent you will need to pay in advance – most places will ask you to pay one month in advance.
- Check whether or not the bills are included in the rent – these could easily add on an extra £50 a month.
- Find out all the rules of the house – such as smoking, parties and entertaining friends – BEFORE you move in!

Great social scene

Every week, sight-seeing, cultural and leisure activities are organised. Obviously the most important thing about these activities is that they help you practise your new-found English-speaking skills.

But don't worry. Like everything at The English Studio, we make sure it's fun too. And we make sure there's something for everyone. For example, you may not want to sit through a play by Samuel Beckett but a fun musical like Billy Elliot might be right up your street. We'll try to make sure they're both available.

If you want to get your dancing shoes on, we can sort you out with discounted prices for clubs like Pacha. We even arrange guided walks around London for as little as five pounds. And if your budget is really tight, don't worry, because in our newsletter and social programme, we also make sure to let you know about the cool London events that are free!

Please note that some activities from our social scene may be run by trusted and carefully selected English Studio partner agencies.

We have our own free monthly newsletter

At the start of every month, you will receive an eNewsletter. With competitions, great offers, money off courses, advice and support, it's the best way to make sure you're getting the most out of your time here. And like almost everything else on this page, it's free!

www.englishstudio.com/newsletter

We look after you

There's always lots to learn when you're living in a new city. We'll help with:

- Local information
- Opening a bank account
- Registering with a doctor
- Finding accommodation
- Getting a student discount travelcard
- Finding a job
- General immigration advice (We have a qualified OISC advisor)
- Changing your course

We have a free Film Club

Our Film Club has hundreds of brilliant DVDs for you to borrow. And they're all completely free. From classics like Citizen Kane to obscure gems like Made in Britain. Of course, watching films at home with friends is a fun and cheap night in. But there's an invaluable side effect. Watching DVDs in English gives you a great 'ear' for the language. See? Even when we're not there, we're still teaching you! That's dedication for you.

Facebook and Twitter

You won't just 'like,' our Facebook Page: you'll love it! When anything is happening in the school – or in London – we use our page to make sure that you're the first to know! It's also a great way to stay in touch with your classmates and organise parties (or even study sessions!).

If you love to tweet, our Twitter feed will keep you fed with info and news too! (though it's often hard to keep our posts under 140 characters).

Student experiences

We know that The English Studio is one of the best places in London to study English. But don't take our word for it. Read what our former students have to say.

The English Studio to me and I'm really happy that I chose the school. I'm also really happy that I came to London! I work as a personal trainer at Fitness First and in my job I get to meet lots of really interesting people, but I've made great friends from all over the world at the school. I have done three terms here and my teachers have all been great. I love it at work when the people I train tell me how much my English has improved. That is all thanks to my classes at ES. I'm now preparing for the IELTS because I would like to study for a Masters in Physiology here.

I love London, I love the school and I would strongly recommend the experience of coming here and studying to anyone...

Catalina Coley

I like to think that I am going places.

Before I came to the UK, I set up my own clothing company in Colombia. I realised very soon that in order to grow my business in the way I want to I would have to do business with people from lots of different markets. Of course the United States is where most of my clients are based, but I'd been to the States a few times before and I'd always dreamed of coming to London.

I love it here! Every day there is something new and exciting for me to see, hear or taste. The best thing about living here is meeting so many different people from all over the world and I have found this fascinating. They say that travel, broadens the mind – well that's certainly true in London's case.

The English Studio is great because not only do the teachers give us excellent lessons which will help us pass our exams, but they also teach us real English that we are likely to hear or likely to need in our daily lives in the city. This has helped me so much in integrating and enjoying my time here. I would advise anyone who's thinking of coming to study English in London to come to The English Studio. My English has improved by two CEFR levels since I've been here and I've also made some great friends.

A friend recommended

the English Studio to me and from the moment I arrived I knew I wouldn't be disappointed. The staff at reception were very helpful and they really made a great effort to help me. They answered all my questions (and I had a lot of questions to ask!) this made me feel both very welcome and very comfortable.

When I went to my first class, there was a great atmosphere, but more important than that, I started to notice quite quickly that I was really learning a lot. This is crucial to me because if I'm going to join a Cambridge Exam Preparation Course, then I need to know that the teacher is an expert who really knows what they are talking about and that I am being prepared for success! I feel this very strongly with my teacher

Right now, I am getting ready to do the the CAE back home in Austria. This exam is essential for me because, I want to work in the field of private banking and when I'm applying for jobs, having a world-recognised English qualification is a must! I would definitely recommend The English Studio!

My time at the English Studio in London has been incredibly enjoyable. I met kind and competent teachers who motivate their students on a daily basis. The classrooms are comfortable and equipped with state-of-the-art technology. Learning becomes an easy and entertaining journey, as the school welcomes students of all nationalities. Regarding accommodation, I had a very easy-going host, who made me feel at home. My term at the English Studio has been exciting and productive, and I'm surprised at how my skills in spoken and written English have improved. I definitely recommend this school!

My name is Lenka and I am from Serbia. I came to London with only one goal: to improve my English skills. The English Studio was suggested by some of my friends and I had also read that ES is believed to be one of the best language schools in London. I have been here for one week now and I have already noticed great improvement. It is wonderful to study in an environment like this, with students from all over the world. Everyone is very friendly and kind: from staff to students.

The teachers are really patient and always ready to help whenever needed. The methods they use are very innovative and it is really easy to learn and understand everything. Also, every class is interesting, different and special in its own way. I am sure that I will gain the knowledge and experience I am looking for here.

I have been studying at the English Studio since February 2014. I can say that it has been a fantastic educational experience, which has exceeded my expectations.

The quality of the teaching is first class. Teachers here use a technique which makes learning fun and interesting at the same time. I have made more progress than I would have imagined. I am now able to understand even the most complex of language structures and use these in everyday conversations.

But it's not all work, work, work. I have made great friends from all over the world. Living in London is culturally enriching, and there is always something new for us to do. Thank you, English Studio, for a rewarding hands-on learning experience.

Studying at the English Studio in London has been a wonderful experience for me! My English has improved day by day, and in a very short time. This can be noticed in my pronunciation, speaking, and writing. These immediate improvements have been possible because of my helpful, competent, and friendly teachers.

I've also had the chance to make new friends and experience different cultures from all around the world.

The English Studio is a great place to learn English and spend some great time in London!
